

The Color of Our Earth
By Zaid Hikal
3rd Grade, Kipps Elementary School

Hi, my name is Zaid and I have a solution for all of the pollution.

Do your best and use cars less, maybe even join Greta Thunberg and make a protest?

Come on everybody!

I know that kids have potential and this is consequential!

If we work together, we can make changes exponential.

Purple is a flower, purple is a plum;

Purple is a bird and the bruise on my thumb.

Red is a bug, red cows that give dairy;

Red is an apple and a ripe strawberry.

Blue is the sky and cool water, running down the streams;

Isn't it all so beautiful, like a wonderful dream?

Green is the soft grass, underneath my feet;

Green is a caterpillar eating a green leaf as a treat.

Yellow is a star, yellow is the sun;

Yellow is the moon when the day is all done.

If you love Mother Earth, you should respect her worth.

She's been there for you since the day of your birth.

Like a lifelong friend, a relationship meant to stay;

Let's protect our planet until the end of our days.

Protect the Earth

By Brooklyn Marie Smith

3rd Grade, Christiansburg Elementary School

Protect the Earth.

It is our home.

I'll try to teach you with this poem

Don't cut down trees

We need them to breathe

Recycle things, Don't throw away.

More more piles up every day.

Take a walk or ride a bike

You might find it's really nice.

Help the Earth in many ways

So the Earth is always,

Here to stay!

50th Earth Day

By Emily Katz

3rd Grade, Kipps Elementary

Earth day is here, Everybody cheer!

Earth day is fifty, Isn't that nifty?

Everybody celebrate, Earth day is so Great!

Please save the Earth today,
Save the Earth in every way!

You can recycle plastic, paper, and tin,
then you can use it all over again!

If you recycle plastic, paper, and tin,
The Earth will be all better again!

Earth day is here for the tall and the small,
Earth day is here for one and all!

The Earth is Worth Saving

By Madeline Saia

3rd Grade, Falling Branch
Elementary School

The Earth
is worth saving.
It needs your help. It can't keep continuing to yelp.
To the Earth, trash is like a rash.
I'm going to be your warner!
So don't just sit around in the corner. Let's save the Earth together!

Bad Pollution

By Everett McGlothlin

3rd Grade, Gilbert Linkous Elementary School

Pollution, pollution

From smoke stacks

Pollution, pollution

From spilled sacks

Pollution, pollution

From oil spills

Pollution, pollution

That gets in fishes' gills

Pollution, pollution

Pollution is bad

Pollution, pollution

Pollution is sad

We must stop pollution
